

Techivation Releases the M-Clarity

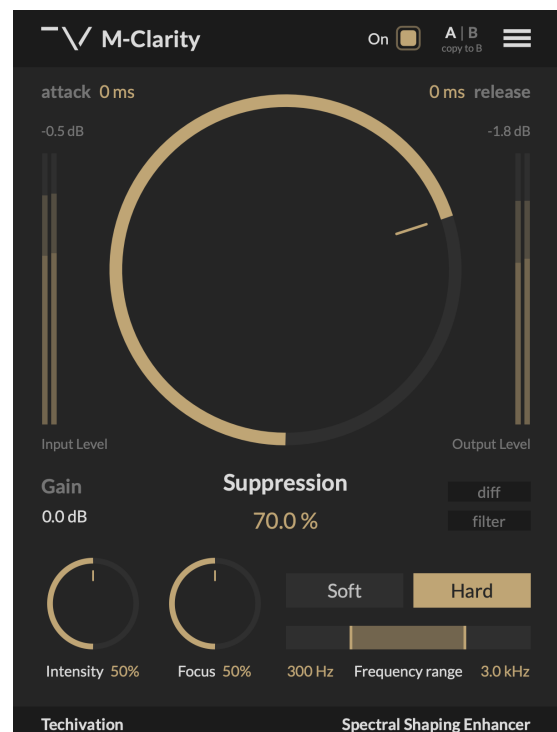

Audio software developer Techivation has launched M-Clarity, the second product in their new M series of audio plug-ins.

M-Clarity is a dynamic resonance suppressor plug-in that employs spectral shaping technology to enhance the tonal balance and clarity of sound. It achieves this by reducing specific problematic frequency components within an audio signal. As a result, it minimizes unwanted characteristics such as harshness, muddiness, or boxiness in the sound, making it an ideal tool for audio mixing, mastering, and editing.

Techivation's M-Clarity offers a sleek and contemporary GUI (Graphic User Interface) designed with a modern approach. Its practicality makes it an excellent addition to any music and audio professional's toolkit.

M-Clarity features:

- Suppression
- Intensity
- Focus
- Frequency Range Slider
- Soft/Hard Modes
- Diff & Filter
- Gain Control
- Input/Output Meters
- Attack & Release
- Internal On/Off Switch
- A/B Switch
- Undo/Redo Options
- Scaleable Graphic User Interface (GUI)
- Presets
- Stereo and Mono
- Tooltips
